“After teaching in public schools for five years, I wanted to advance my career but stay within the education space. Earning a Kelley Full-Time MBA was the best way for me to quickly pivot to a career in educational consulting. Now I’ve landed a career with EY-Parthenon to work on solutions for the educational community that I value.”

—Beth Lee, MBA’24, San Diego, California
Consultant, EY-Parthenon, Chicago, Illinois
Previous career: Public education, Washington
Major: Management

Beth wanted an immersive MBA experience that would prepare her to lead strategic solutions in the education sector. As co-president of Kelley Women in Business, Beth was proud to foster a support system for women pursuing their MBA.

Beth’s video:

Turn defining moments into lasting career momentum.

A former teacher, Beth drew on her passion for learning to build a career in educational consulting. James soaked in every learning opportunity in the Capital Markets Academy—including visits to firms in Chicago and New York—as he transitions from the military to investment banking. Aki, a biological researcher from Japan, says Kelley feels like home as she pivots to marketing. In the pages ahead, and in videos, learn how our students leverage the Kelley MBA program to achieve life-changing personal growth and career goals.

- Me, Inc. primes you for success before classes even begin.

“When you come to Kelley, you’re not coming here alone. You meet people who will help you every step of the way, and you should leverage this support. You don’t have to do everything on your own.”

—Adedoyin Adenuga, MBA’24, Lagos, Nigeria
Associate, McKinsey and Company, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania
Previous career: Senior associate with Big Four professional services firm in Nigeria
Majors: Finance; Business Analytics

Adedoyin began exploring MBA programs because of her growing curiosity about all aspects of business strategy and growth—from launch to exit. She chose the Kelley Full-Time MBA because of its smaller class size, welcoming community, and strong alumni network.

Adedoyin’s video:

Surround yourself with support.

Your two years with us will change your life. As you work toward your goals, your peers will inspire and lift you. Our faculty will support you. Our alumni will enlighten—and may even hire—you. We call this the Kelley community, and our family extends to your family.

What makes our community so strong? Our students’ shared experiences from day one enable diverse classmates to forge lifelong friendships. Our faculty and staff really want to get to know you and understand what you want to accomplish in your career. Kelley alumni are a constant presence as recruiters, industry experts, and mentors, and through informal connections.

“A Kelley alum advised me to connect with at least two people in the Kelley alumni network each week. This networking mindset helped me understand the consulting industry, prepare for interviews, and land a consulting internship.”

—Ramzan Miah, MBA’25, Narsingdi, Dhaka, Bangladesh
Summer Analyst in Strategy and Analysis, Alix Partners, Raleigh, North Carolina
Previous career: Supply Chain Manager, Singapore
Major: Business Analytics

With a background in engineering and supply chain management, Ramzan chose the Kelley MBA to grasp the nuances of market and demand in the US. Classmates from Brazil, Taiwan, India, and Pakistan have become close friends—a community that he’ll call upon in his consulting career.

“It can be difficult to break away from imposter syndrome when you have a disadvantaged upbringing. A lot is riding on my future. I’m confident I’ll succeed because Kelley is about walking the walk—they teach us and then expect us to apply it before we graduate. We work with real-life clients who depend on us.”

—Roberto Vasquez, MBA’25, Pasadena, California
Nike Marketing Vanguard Program, Beaverton, Oregon
Previous career: Higher education, Los Angeles, California
Majors: Marketing; Strategy and Leadership

Roberto always thought he would go into medicine so he could provide his parents with the financial security they deserved after moving to the US from Mexico before he was born. He chose an MBA instead because he could transition more quickly into a lucrative career. With his Kelley MBA, he’s building a marketing career where he can give back to his community, too.

Roberto’s video: gokelley.iu.edu/roberto
Begin your MBA with momentum.

You’ll experience the Kelley community’s commitment to your success before your first MBA course. Specialized programs enable you to take full advantage of our career support from day one.

Over the summer, you’ll complete a series of online activities that help you better understand where you’ve been, where you want to go, and how you will get there.

In addition, if you’ll be taking part in a pre-MBA summer leadership conference, bootcamp, or other professional development program, our career coaches will work with you to ensure you’re ready to succeed.

Me, Inc.—your foundation for success
Challenging and impactful, Me, Inc. is much more than an orientation program. It’s filled with career development, team-building activities, and an introduction to intercultural competencies. You’ll work with our career coaches to build a strong resume and develop a personal brand that will set you apart when it counts.

As you progress through Me, Inc., you’ll develop individualized skills that you’ll apply throughout your two years at Kelley and beyond. You’ll gain a better understanding of yourself and use that to identify the right professional fit for your skills, personality, and values. You’ll start your MBA knowing who you are, what you want to accomplish, and what opportunities await you.

“Me, Inc. was an opportunity to center myself and build confidence, define what I wanted to get out of the next two years, and prepare for networking and recruiting. Unique to Kelley, this program sets you up to hit the ground running.”

—Andrew Lash, MBA’24

“I was still at the airport after spending a day at Wells Fargo in New York when HR called to extend an internship offer for the summer. All the personal preparation that I did, supported by my second-year peers conducting mock interviews and the Capital Markets Academy faculty and projects, came together. It was a validation of this program.”

Investment Banking Summer Associate, Wells Fargo, Charlotte, North Carolina

“Economics has always been difficult for me, but a teammate in Core had a PhD in economics. He would stay with me after class to teach me economics. Marketing and strategy weren’t as intuitive for him, so I had the opportunity to reciprocate. There were student-led study sessions where classmates with backgrounds in traditionally challenging subjects helped facilitate learning. This is typical of the culture at Kelley.”

Samuel Clark, MBA’23
Samuel’s video: gokelley.iu.edu/samuel
Your new career could take you almost anywhere. In today’s fast-paced global market, you’ll be required to navigate the complexities of many cultures.

As a Kelley MBA student, you can develop leadership skills and gain global business experience with Global Business and Social Enterprise (GLOBASE), or study abroad at one of more than 20 institutions worldwide that partner with Kelley.

GLOBASE: Five things to know

1. It’s designed for impact—on students and clients. Consulting with small companies in emerging economies will test your adaptability, strengthen your leadership skills, and deepen your understanding of local business culture.
2. Teams are paired with small businesses and nonprofits in countries across the globe.
3. Students consult with clients remotely for seven weeks and spend one week in-country in the middle of the course, with an option for more travel over Spring Break.
4. In April, you and your team will deliver your impactful project findings and recommendations to your client.
5. GLOBASE 2025 locations will be Argentina, Botswana, and Indonesia.

Gain hands-on, global consulting experience and create positive change in the world.
“On my GLOBASE trip to Argentina, I immediately put into practice the skills I learned in the Strategic Finance Academy. Through our consulting project, my client gained a basic accounting system; for me, it was an opportunity to trust my instincts, my voice, and what I’m learning at Kelley.”

—Emily Meyer, MBA’25, Elmwood, Illinois
Leadership Development Program, Pella Corporation, Pella, Iowa

Previous career: Real estate development, Chicago, Illinois

Major: Finance

Emily wasn’t sure she was ready to begin an MBA and wondered if she’d be successful in studying quantitative aspects of business, but she knew she wanted to advance her career. With the support of Kelley faculty—whom she calls “the hidden gem of Kelley”—she’s diving deep into learning strategic finance, from investments to allocating resources, and is eager to take what she’s learning to Pella’s Leadership Development Program.
Students often point to their experiences with their certified career coach, academic advisor, and second-year peer coach—and the support of the whole Kelley family in general—as a defining aspect of their time at Kelley. You will, too.

Our coaches and advisors won’t tell you what to do, but they listen carefully as you “think out loud” and remind you of what’s most important to you and your career. They prepare you to network with confidence. They show you possibilities. Need help preparing for an interview or a coffee chat? You’ll always have someone to ask.

Kelley alumni comprise one of the largest living networks of business school alumni, with more than 133,000 worldwide, and their impact on the MBA program is felt from beginning to end. Alumni support and their career and industry insights come in many forms, from responding to students’ LinkedIn messages and cold calls to engaging with students during recruiting events, Academy programs, IU Football tailgate parties, and conferences. Want to know what your career may look like in five years? Ask an alum.

“Initially, networking didn’t feel natural for me. However, after discussing my concerns with my career coach, she introduced me to two amazing Kelley alumni who not only mentored me and provided me with valuable networking tips, but also guided me through the interview process for companies I was interested in."

—Thai Gun, MBA’23

Thailand’s video: gokelley.iu.edu/thai
As a biological researcher, Aki wanted to better understand the business of launching impactful products into the marketplace. Through her Kelley strategic marketing course, Aki is gaining tools to analyze, understand, and integrate marketing data—valuable skills she’ll draw on in her upcoming role as a marketing intern at Eli Lilly and Company.

“At Kelley, I don’t really feel like an international student. My best friend at Kelley is from the US; students are open-minded, and you can easily make friends—I feel that Kelley is like home.”

Marketing Intern, Eli Lilly and Company, Indianapolis, Indiana
